

AI CONTENT ENGINE

Private conversations in. Publishable drafts out.

A content engine that turns every call, talk and recording into posts and newsletters in your voice, with privacy handled before a word is drafted. Proven on 800+ recordings.

THE PROBLEM

The raw material already existed. Turning it into content meant someone listening to hours of recordings, deciding what mattered, removing every private detail and then writing. That never happened.

HOW IT WORKS

BY THE NUMBERS

800+

recordings in the library

anonymization passes before any drafting

2

drafts from each selected recording: an article and a newsletter

Point it at any archive, from podcasts and webinars to client calls and talks.

WHERE ELSE IT FITS

- Podcast and webinar archives turned into a year of content
- Coaching and consulting sessions turned into newsletters, safely anonymized
- Conference talks and keynotes turned into articles and posts
- Sales-call libraries turned into objection-handling content
- Internal talks turned into knowledge articles
- Course and training recordings turned into lead magnets
